17. Carolán's Draught Turlough O'Carolan

Carolán's Draught is one of the most popular compositions of the Irish harper Turlough O'Carolan (1670 - 1738). Its title suggests the composer was fond of a drink or two, a predilection which may produce the tendency to Sleep Soond ida Moarnin (sleep sound in the morning). The second strain of this fine Shetland reel has a good example of the bowing pattern known in the USA as the Georgia Shuffle: accenting the single down-bow among the slurred up-bows gives a strong off-beat effect which is also heard in much Irish fiddling.
